AIMS

The aims of the 5th International Research Seminar in Maritime, Port and Transport Law are many. Firstly, it will offer post-PhD Researchers and PhD-students an opportunity to present their on-going research to each other and to receive valuable feedback on their on-going work from their Colleagues from the fields of Maritime, Port and Transport Law. Lawyers and advanced law students interested are invited to hear reports, and if necessary intervene with questions.

Secondly, each morning the program starts with an in-depth Lectio Magistralis given by a leading Law Professor, Professor Rhidian Thomas (Swansea University), Professor Eric Van Hooydonk (Ghent University), Professor María Victoria Petit Lavall (Universidad Jaume I - Castellon De La Plana) on subjects of current interest. The Lectio Magistralis will be followed by Masterclasses held each day by Full or Associate Professors (Prof. Dr. Dorotea Ćorić - University of Rijeka; Prof. Dr. Nadezhda Butakova - Russian Academy of National Economy and Public Administration, St. Petersburg) or Senior Assistant Professors (Dr. Igor Vio - University of Rijeka; Dr. Mišo Mudrić - Zagreb University; Prof. Dr. Elena Orrù - University of Bologna), and distinguished practitioners (Mr. Taco Van Der Valk, in charge of the Young CMI, Mr. Lino Verbeke, Honorary Consul of Croatia in Belgium).

Thirdly, during the seminar participants will have excellent networking opportunities to improve or extend their international academic contacts in the fields of Maritime, Port and Transport Law. Moreover, on July 1st will be held a Symposium on current perspectives on transport issues, where distinguished practitioners belonging to well known Law Firms associated with ASLA - Associazione degli Studi Legali Associati will present the most significant findings related to some of the most relevant current transport issues.

TARGET GROUP

Post-PhD Researchers and PhD-Students in the fields of Maritime, Port and Transport Law (both Private and Public Law and including Procedural Law, Jurisdiction and Conflict Law) from all over the World. The International Research Seminar is also open for attendance by legal practitioners and advanced law students of at least master level who have already successfully completed their course(s) in Maritime and/or Transport Law and who are interested in specializing further in these matters. The Friday Symposium is open also to academics, legal practitioners and law students.

BASIC SET-UP

The time slots available for the various presentations by post-PhD Researchers and PhD-students are determined in 30 minutes each (20 min. for the presentation and 10 min. for the discussion). Presentations will be grouped together in sessions based upon the subject-matter. If necessary, parallel sessions will be scheduled to allow all PhD-students to present their research and obtain feedback from the audience.

LECTIO MAGISTRALIS

From the organizing and supporting Universities, three distinguished Law Professors have confirmed to hold a Lectio Magistralis to the participants of the International Research Seminar on topical subjects. The idea is to provide high-level teaching to the PhD-students and advanced master students who in turn are expected to prepare for and participate actively in discussion during the master class.
